GETTYSBURG ADDRESS SPOKEN MANY TIMES

Immortal Speech of Lincoln Forms Basis of Exercises in Public Schools and Colleges.

As announced for some days, Wednesday Nov. 19, was the anniversary of the first delivery of the brief yet eloquent address of President Lincoln at Gettysburg and it was fitting that suitable attention should be paid to it by the pupils of the public schools and other institutions of learning.

The educational institutions of the city duly took note of the day while the public schools also did their part.

First Ward.

Here the upper grades were gathered together and the address was recited in a proper manner and lessons of patriotism were inculcated in the minds of the children.

Second Ward.

No formal exercises with program were had but the address was recited and special attention was called to it and the children were taught the great lessons which the address inculcates.

Third Ward.

Here the exercises were more elaborate. A special program was prepared and admirably executed and all participating did dimirably. The following was the program:

Song, America the Beautiful—School.

Reading, Gettysburg Day—Earl Fitch.

Song, Illinois—School.

Reading of Lincoln's Farewell Address—Miss Grassy.

Song, Dixie—Seventh Grade.

Reading, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud (Lincoln's favorite poem)—Miss Johnson.

Music, Lincoln Centennial March—Helen Bennet.

Recitation of Gettysburg Address by pupils.

Song, My Own United States—School.

Morton School.

The children at this school were also taught that the Gettysburg address is one of the masterpieces of English literature and contains lessons that all should learn.

Fourth Ward.

The exercises here were deeply impressive. The grades from the fourth to the seventh were gathered into the large room where the exercises were held during the last hour of the day. There was patriotic music and then Miss Laura Hammond gave a fine talk on the battle of Gettysburg and what it meant to the nation. She told of the causes that led to it and then paid a glowing tribute to the immortal address and the man who delivered it. The pupils of the seventh grade recited the address in concert and all saluted the flag.

Eighth Grade.

Appropriate exercises in commemoration of the Gettysburg speech was held by the eighth grade pupils. They gathered in the main auditorium when the following program was given:

"Why We Celebrate the Day"—Miss Helen Self.

"How the Gettysburg Cemetery Was Arranged"—Fred Moore.

"How Lincoln Was Invited to Speak"—Miss Charlotte Nortrip.

"Where and How Lincoln Wrote the Address"—Miss Hazel Belle Duncan.

"The Audience in Attendance"—Philip Day.

The book, "A Perfect Tribute," was reviewed in an interesting manner by Miss Alkire, Raymond Lanning and Frances Mayberry.

Superintendent Blair sent out a request that all pupils gather at 3:30 o'clock, the time that the address was given fifty years ago, and recite the speech. The pupils of the eighth grade carried out the wishes of the superintendent and at the appointed time all assembled in the chapel room. First John Groce read the notice of Supt. Blair and then the 100 pupils and more repeated in unison, the famous address, which was very beautiful and effective.

State School For Deaf.

At the State School for the Deaf, C. Spruit gave a brief address on the Gettysburg speech and its meaning and then the pupils recited the speech in the sign language, being led by D. W. George. The chapel platform was decorated in flags and bunting and a picture of Lincoln was in evidence. The exercises closed with a prayer by Prof. Spruit.

At Illinois College.

President Rammelkamp made a strenuous effort to secure the presence of Col. Clark E. Carr, who was present when the address was delivered by Lincoln and sat on the platform, but the colonel was unable to be present and President Rammelkamp himself gave the students an excellent address, dwelling on the events that led up to the war and the battle of Gettysburg, telling the students what it meant to the cause of the union during the civil war.

At the Woman's College.

At this institution the anniversary was suitably observed in the morning at the time the faculty and students assembled in the chapel for the daily exercises. The following program was rendered after which President Parker made some appropriate remarks:

Patriotic service.

Song—America.

"O Captain, My Captain" (Whitman)—Miss Allen.

The Recessional (vocal)—Miss Parsons.

Song—Star Spangled Banner.

At the morning chapel hour Supt. Woolston spoke to the pupils on the Battle of Gettysburg and gave a graphic description of that memorable struggle. Riley Cade, a post graduate residing at Raymond, recited the address in a masterly manner, after which patriotic songs were sung. The whole program was a suitable recognition of the great emancipator and his immortal address.

NEW TRICK PLAYS FOR PEORIA MANUAL

COACH BULAND PREPARING MEN FOR BIG GAME.

Battle Royal Expected When High School Teams Meet Saturday Afternoon on Illinois Field. Some Figuring on Championship Prospects.

For several weeks the J. H. S. football team has been diligently perfecting a series of trick plays invented by Coach Buland for the Peoria Manual team to solve here in Illinois field next Saturday. If straight football fails Saturday, Capt. James Haigh will fall back on his trick plays, and if they fail then J. H. S. will have to accept defeat, or keep Peoria from scoring.

The new plays are the best that any J. H. S. team coached by Buland has ever had and if they work out in the big game as easily as they do in practice, the Distillery city lads will soon be in a whirlwind maze.

The coach is confident and antelopes little trouble in defeating Peoria. It is true that Peoria Central defeated J. H. S. and was in turn defeated by Manual 26 to 6, but the team that represented the locals against Peoria Central, is not the team that will line up against Peoria Manual Saturday. J. H. S. at that time had half of their regular Springfield defeated Lincoln 19 to 0 and J. H. S. walked over Lincoln 33 to 0 and last Saturday Springfield defeated Peoria 7 to 0. But at the same time the red and white mentor does not believe in taking any chances and is working his team to the limit in practice.

There is going to be no common fluke about the win Saturday. Either J. H. S. is going to be trimmed enough to win or too weak to even hold Peoria. If they do win, and it must be against a weight handicap thirty pounds to the man, Jacksonville will have as good a claim on the Central Illinois championship as either Springfield or Greenfield. So far on comparison of scores, against teams, all three have met the dope in favor of Jacksonville and J. H. S. will be willing to back up their claim. It all depends on the game near at hand.

BURGOO SUPPER.

Catras Rebekah Lodge will serve a burgoo supper tonight in Urania Lodge hall commencing at 5:30. Everybody invited. Soup 5¢ a bowl.

PLEADS INSANITY.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 19.—Bruce P. Conger, who said he was the son of a United States weather official of the same name and a relative of E. H. Conger, former American minister to China, appeared in the superior court today on a charge of having passed a worthless check for $30 on the Southern Pacific railroad.

Conger pleaded irresponsibility, declaring he was insane and was granted sixty days to obtain depositions from relatives and persons in Detroit, his former home.

OFFERS BARGAIN RATES.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Special bargain rates were offered today by the city controller in the effort to increase interest in a popular sale of municipal bonds. Ten dollars down and the rest in sixty days is the inducement offered. It was shown to the comptroller that some persons who might be in the market for the bonds had savings accounts and if forced to withdraw before January 1 would lose six months interest. To obviate this bonds will be laid aside until after the first of the year for those who make a deposit.

URGE STATE HIGHWAY.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Indorsement of a bill for the construction of a state highway, to be known as the Lincoln memorial road from Chicago to Springfield and connecting with other roads leading from every county seat in the state, was urged today by members of the Women's Goodroads association which is holding its second annual convention here. Convict labor on roads also was endorsed, principally because of its benefit to the convicts themselves.

KILLS BROTHER-IN-LAW.

Warrensburg, Mo., Nov. 19.—Thomas Hensley, a farmer living twelve miles south of here shot and killed his brother-in-law, David Ricker today. Hensley had quarreled with his wife and she went to the home of her brother. Today Ricker went to Hensley's home to get clothing for his wife and her children and the shooting resulted. Hensley escaped.

HOLD SUCCESSFUL SUPPER.

Wednesday evening the ladies of the Alexander Catholic church held a very successful chicken supper and bazaar in the basement of the church. Quite a large number of people were served and the ladies took in a neat sum which will be used for expenses of the church.

BARNHART'S GUM MACHINE ROBBED.

On the same night that the two gum machines were torn from the Piepenbring grocery on East State street, one that was hanging on the outside of the Barnhart grocery on South Main street was also torn down, broken open and robbed.

EIGHTH GRADE NOT DISMISSED.

On account of the conference of teachers at the University of Illinois, the high school is dismissed for today and Friday. However, the eighth grade will be in session these two days.

T. N. Oakes of Peoria, an agent of the Clover Leaf Casualty company was in the city yesterday. H. R. Rockwood of the same company has gone to Missouri on business.

FIFTY YEAR OLD REPORT OF LINCOLN AT GETTYSBURG

Little Was Said of Great Address By Press at the Time It Was Delivered Fifty Years Ago.

So much is being said, nowadays about Lincoln's address at Gettysburg, that it is difficult to realize how little was said of it at the time of delivery.

Newspapers did not then publish pages on one subject, or give column after column of telegraphic reports. They frequently borrowed reports without credit, from each other.

It is doubtful whether there are many reports of the proceedings of the dedication at Gettysburg to be found. But Mr. Ensley Moore has shown us a scrap he preserved, from the Illinois State Journal, evidently some days after the exercises.

Under this single head, "Inauguration of the Gettysburg Cemetery," the journal says: "Special dispatches from Gettysburg estimate the number of persons present at the consecration of the National Cemetery at that place on Thursday, at from 30,000 to 50,000. Among the distinguished persons present were President Lincoln, Secretary Seward, Montgomery Blair, Governors Todd and Brough of Ohio; Governor Curtin of Pennsylvania; Seymour of New York; Lieut. Governor Anderson of Ohio; Governor Boromean of West Virginia; Generals Stone, Couch and Schenck, and a number of Foreign Ministers, Admirals, etc."

The Journal then seems to copy this:

After the performance of an original piece by the band furnished by Governor Curtin a piece eloquently suited to the occasion, which was performed with pre-eminent skill, Rev. Mr. Stockton, the venerable chaplain of the United States Senate, was introduced, who offered up such a prayer as only he is capable of. The vast assembly stood uncovered in breathless attention during the invocation, and few indeed were the hearts however obdurate, that did not unite with him in his prayer for the great American nation. Never was a man selected for any service so fit in every respect to perform it. There the reverend gentleman stood, looking as if himself was one of the brave dead, whose graves were spread out before him, just risen from the tomb to invoke the God of nations and liberty, to bless the sacred work and insure the hearts of the living with the grandeur of the work still before them.

The State Journal then resumes its account as follows:

"The oration by Mr. Everett which was one of the most eloquent of life, occupied two hours and four minutes in delivery.

At the conclusion of the oration the following dirge, composed for the occasion by B. B. French, was performed by a choir from the Musical Association of Baltimore."

Here follows the poem, in five verses, six lines to a verse:

"President Lincoln was here induced, when, after the applause had subsided, he spoke as follows:"

"Then follows the address, differing in a few words from the version of it now accepted; applause stated several times.)

The State Journal ends the notice as follows:

"The conclusion of the president's remarks was followed by immense applause, and three cheers given for him, and also three cheers for the governors of the states."

SOIL CULTURE.

By Dr. W. E. Taylor at 2 Tomorrow Afternoon, Y. M. C. A. Building.

The lecture to be given Friday at 2 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. building will be something which will be worth hearing and the distinguished gentleman should have a large audience. He is an eminently practical man and well understands his subject, having given ample proof of the fact by the way in which he handled the Watertown state farm. The lecture will be free and every one interested in farming and the soil should by all means hear the lecture.

The Ladies' Aid society of Westminster church will hold a Thanksgiving market Saturday in Johnson, Hackett & Guthrie's window.

INSTALLATION AND DEDICATION OF NEW ODD FELLOW LODGE

Excelsior Lodge No. 9354, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows Formed With a Membership of

The newest lodge in Jacksonville is Excelsior Lodge, 9354, G. U. O. O. F., composed of forty young colored men of the city, the grand installation and dedication of which took place at Co. L. hall Wednesday evening. George T. Scott of Springfield presided and the ceremonies of installation of officers and dedication of the hall were performed by Most Patriarch J. W. Womack of Chicago. At the close of the exercises a supper was served followed by a reception and dance. Visiting lodges were present from Springfield and Peoria and the event as a whole was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The Officers Elected.
The officers for the coming year of Excelsior Lodge No. 9354 are: Past Noble Father, Robert Hyatt; Noble Father, Nehemiah Revlis; Past Noble Grand, W. M. Robinson; Noble Grand, Austin Carter Jr.; Vice Grand, Howard Underwood; Chaplain, William House; Advocate, Henry Brown; Treasurer, David Short; Permanent secretary, William Parish; Elective secretary, Douglas Norton; Supporters to Grand, Anthony Hamilton and Edward Lewis; Supporters to Vice grand, John W. Wheeler and Carlton Hall; Warden, W. H. Wright and Guardian, Merle Terrell.

The committee on arrangements was composed of George Carr Parks, Howard Underwood and Austin Carter. Those who served on the refreshment committee were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Carr Parks, Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Lydia Robinson, Mrs. Douglas Norton, Mrs. Jane Carter and Howard Underwood.

From Chicago there was present as a special guest of the lodge, Most Noble Governess Emma J. Caldwell.

A delegation was present from the grand installation were begun Monday night when the new members of the lodge were initiated. At the session Tuesday the officers were degreed and a number of matters of important business were attended to. Wednesday night, after Mr. Scott of Springfield had taken charge the devotional was lead by the Rev. A. A. Russell of Memory Baptist church. This was followed by the dedicatory address by the Hon. J. W. Womack of Chicago who lead also the ceremony by which the officers were installed. The supper which followed the exercises was a delicious one in which chicken, fried and baked and oysters with appropriate side dishes featured. The evening was closed by a reception and dance for which music was furnished by Mallory Bros. orchestra.

CITY AND COUNTY

Mrs. N. Z. Reinhack and Mrs. George Wyatt of Franklin were visitors in the city Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson of the vicinity of Hutchinson, Kan., are visiting Mrs. Richardson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson of this city.

Mrs. H. W. Tippett of Pittsburgh underwent a serious operation at Passavant hospital yesterday and at last accounts was doing as well as could be expected.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Albert Reed will be conducted at the lecture room of the Congregational church at 11 this morning instead of 10:30 as at first announced.

Miss Jennie Chamberlain of Mt. Sterling is spending a few days with her cousin, Mrs. Henry Welburn, near Orleans, while on her way home after a two weeks' visit in Chicago.

Mrs. H. G. Butcher of Lewiston and Miss Eola Pease of Waverly are in the city for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Albert Reed. They are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Coard.

J. Bart Johnson and Charles H. Ward expected to go St. Louis today to meet a delegation from the Springfield consistory going down there to exemplify the work of the 32nd degree in the East St. Louis consistory.

"We are hopeful in such a development there will be continued and greater activity to organize the unorganized into their respect and new unions and that in their federated relationship general political activity will be given ever increasing attention.

For the present we recommend continuation and development of labor's non-partisan political position, namely, that the program and policy declared by the American Federation of Labor as used by its executive council and organized workers throughout the country, be reaffirmed and urge that this program and policy be pursued in subsequent campaigns.

To our fellow workers and fellow citizens all over North America we also urge that organized labor's slogan should live in its deeds—stand faithfully by friends and oppose our enemies—and that members of trade unions be nominated and elected to municipal, county, state, federal and dominion offices."

MISS WILSON GUEST OF HONOR.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Miss Jessie Wilson, the white house bride-to-be, was the guest of honor at a "pink luncheon" given at the Congressional club today by Miss Genevieve Clark, debutante daughter of Speaker Champ Clark. It was the second formal pre-nuptial function for Miss Wilson, who was presented to the younger members of congressional and official set.

COMMISSION INVESTIGATES

FRISCO RECEIVERSHIP

Treasurer of Brownsville Road is Alleged to Have Been "Tipped Off" Concerning Receivership Proceedings by Agreement.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—O. H. Nance, treasurer of the St. Louis, Mexico & Brownsville railroad, a subsidiary of the St. Louis and San Francisco, telephoned to the treasurer of the latter road, according to evidence brought out today that the Brownsville road could borrow from a bank in Kingsville, Texas, if he could be assured that the treasurer of the Frisco would "tip off" Nance seventy-two hours before any receivership proceedings were instituted against the Brownsville.

This evidence was brought out this afternoon at the interstate commerce commission investigation of the Frisco receivership. Frank H. Hamilton, treasurer of the Frisco, was on the stand and was asked about telegram Nance is alleged to have sent.

Hamilton said he did not remember if he gave Nance the advance tip on the receivership proceedings against the Brownsville line but D. E. Brown, special examiner, showed from telegrams that Nance borrowed $25,000 from a bank in Kingsville on June 12, 1913, and repaid it on July 4. The receivership petition against the Brownsville was filed three days later.

Gives Names of Syndicate.

The names of five promoters who were members of a syndicate that made large amounts on Texas lands to aid in the building of the Brownsville road was given to Commissioner Clark today by A. T. Perkins, syndicate manager. Mr. Perkins at first refused to disclose the names but finally consented to do so. The five men named by Perkins were Benjamin F. Yeakum, chairman of the board of directors of the Frisco until the road went into receivership; Samuel W. Fordyce, St. Louis capitalist; Robert S. Brookings, president of the board of trustees of Washington university; Thomas H. West, chairman of the board of directors of the St. Louis Union Trust company and now a Frisco receiver, and Edward S. Whittaker, a broker.

Perkins testified that the syndicate sold the land and used part of the proceeds in making improvements in the territory traversed by the Brownsville road. The purpose of these improvements was to develop traffic. Later these improvements were deeded to West Texas Abstract and Guaranty company which the syndicate acquired. Mr. Perkins said that the total profit of the syndicate that sold the Brownsville road to the Frisco was $3,000,000, each subscriber to the syndicate realizing about 75 per cent profit.

TIME NOT YET RIPE FOR FORMATION OF LABOR PARTY

Federation of Labor Delegates Advocate, However, That Unionists Look Forward Toward Increasing Political Activity.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—That the time is not ripe for the formation of a labor party but that trade unionists should look forward to increasing political activity, was affirmed today as the position of the American Federation of Labor, which adopted by vote of 193 to 15 a declaration of principles recommended by the resolutions committee as follows:

"While political developments are encouragingly progressive and should not be continued and further developed in the future, we believe that the time has not arrived when with due regard for the economic movement still young and hopeful in organization a distinct labor political party should be formed.

"We are confident that when our present political activities have suitably matured, a new political party will be the logical result, a party in which will be amalgamated the reform and humanitarian forces which will represent and stand for the protection and supremacy of human rights, giving executive expression to the sound economic and political position that the producers of wealth are entitled to their full share of the value thereof and as opposed to party organization.

"While political developments are encouragingly progressive and should not be continued and further developed in the future, we believe that the time has not arrived when with due regard for the economic movement still young and hopeful in organization a distinct labor political party should be formed.

"We are hopeful in such a development there will be continued and greater activity to organize the unorganized into their respect and new unions and that in their federated relationship general political activity will be given ever increasing attention.

"For the present we recommend continuation and development of labor's non-partisan political position, namely, that the program and policy declared by the American Federation of Labor as used by its executive council and organized workers throughout the country, be reaffirmed and urge that this program and policy be pursued in subsequent campaigns.

"To our fellow workers and fellow citizens all over North America we also urge that organized labor's slogan should live in its deeds—stand faithfully by friends and oppose our enemies—and that members of trade unions be nominated and elected to municipal, county, state, federal and dominion offices."

Do Your Washing and Wrapping Without Working

Don't waste your time and strength in useless toil. Washing is, without doubt, the dirtiest, hardest, and most disagreeable part of your work when done in the old style way. Why should you continue to cling to the obsolete methods of washing clothes when a Meadows Family Power Washer will do all the work for you—you do the operating. The is furnished with belt pulley for electric power or electric motor for electric power. It is a practical machine for both city and country housewives. Fill the machine tub full of dirty clothes, close the lid and the Meadows starts working. While clothes are being washed you can go about doing the rest of your housework. When clothes are clean it is an easy matter to wring them with a Meadows—just press your foot on the ped. I and the wringer starts. With the foot pedal control you have both hands free to feed the wringer and at the same time have perfect control of wringer. Wringer works at any of the tubs. Just think, each piece is generally wrung three or four times, wouldn't it be grand to do all this wringing without working? Come in and see how easy it is to do a big family washing with a Meadows Family Power Washer.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. The flashes of heat were so bad sometimes that I did not know what to do.

"One day a friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made me a strong well woman. I am very thankful that I followed my friend's advice and I shall recommend it as long as I live. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.

Such warning symptoms as suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly healed by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis.

NOTED PHYSICIAN DIES

Dr. Albert Brown Passes Away at His Home In North Yakima, Washington.

The Waverly Journal of the 14th says:

Albert Curtiss Brown, aged 64 years, 4 months and 11 days, who died November 6, 1913 at his home in North Yakima, Washington, was the son of Dr. Isaac H. Brown and Mary Woodford, early settlers in this country. His birth, June 25th, 1849 occurred in Chicago, during a year's residence of his parents in that city. The family having returned to Waverly during his infancy, his boyhood days were passed in this community.

In the year of 1870 at the age of twenty-one he graduated from Illinois college at Jacksonville, with the degree of A. B. and three years later in 1873 received his diploma from Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York. Following this for one year he practiced medicine with Dr. David Prince of Jacksonville. At this time Dr. Isaac H. Brown's health compelled him to retire from active practice and the son severed his relationship with Dr. Prince, returned to the home of his boyhood and began laying the foundation of a successful professional career.

Without interruption, from this date, until December 2, 1891, when his office in this city was destroyed by fire, he pursued diligently and skillfully his life's work. The first half of the year 1892 was occupied with a post graduate course at the Polyclinic Medical school in New York. Upon his return he became a resident of Chicago, where he practiced medicine for a period of fifteen years. Unmistakable evidence of ill health during the last years of his sojourn in Chicago led him to cease the practice of medicine, seek rest in a milder climate, and his new home was chosen amidst the world famous fruit orchards of North Yakima, Washington.

Here he purchased a fruit ranch and with his family began their new life. Quickly adapting himself to his environment he passed the years developing his property and striving to regain his health. Though more successful with the former than the latter, he bore with good cheer the decrees of fate and patiently awaited the progress of that which proved to be an incurable disease. The winter of 1910 and 1911 was passed in Southern California testing the curative benefits of the southern climate. The relief gained proved only temporary and by slow but sure stages he grew more frail. Early in June 1912 he found it beyond his strength to leave his bed and from this time until the end came, he who had so successfully restored to health so many friends waited patiently and with rare courage the inevitable.

Though it is now more than twenty years since the deceased practiced in Waverly, the mention of his name in many households brings forth words of commendation, a genuine recognition of his sterling worth and the value of the services he rendered.

His home life began on his twenty-fifth birthday, when he was united in marriage to Miss Lucinda A. Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Carter Sr., of Waverly. To them were born two children: Frederick A., who now resides in North Yakima, and Carter VanVleck, who died and was buried in Chicago in September, 1902.

CITY WATER.

To the Journal:

In the issue of the Journal of Sunday morning, I find a statement to the effect that the water in Mauvalterre creek was running over the dam on Sunday morning, for the first time for several months.

Anyone who has noticed the color of the city water for a few days past must have understood that the water supply comes from the Mauvalterre creek, although many had been led to believe that the supply was still obtained from the Widenham-Daub wells. I understand that the pumps at the Widenham and Daub wells had been kept going constantly, but that the supply has continually diminished until they furnish considerably less than half of the city's consumption.

As the city can now obtain water from the Mauvalterre creek, it would seem to be a good opportunity to measure the flow from the W-D wells, and that should be done while the pumps are still going and before the ground is permitted to fill up from the creek or otherwise. Citizens are entitled to know the facts in regard to their water supply.

AT NICHOLS PARK.

A short time since the Journal announced a visit to the city of certain prominent Chicago & Alton railroad officials who promised to make certain improvements along their right of way next to the park.

The work has been done and is a great improvement. The loose dirt which formed an unsightly ridge on the west side of the road has been removed, the concrete walk has been continued to the track and the old fence and cattle guard removed making things look a great deal better.

It is probable that in the spring the park commissioners will take advantage of Superintendent Henderson's permission to take charge of the right of way on the east side and make it conform to the rest of the beautiful lawn north of the pavilion and that will be a still greater attraction.

The concrete work at the bridge has been completed and the grading will be done as fast as possible by the custodian so that hereafter the insight wooden abutments will be removed and things look a great deal better about that part of the park.

TRUSTY SEEKS TO ESCAPE.

A trusty inmate by the name of Reynolds, employed on the lawn at the Illinois state reformatory, at Pontiac, made a dash for liberty when his guard's back was turned. Officer James Quinn gave chase and telling the boy with a "blackjack" it's he was about to climb through a barbed wire fence on a farm near the institution.

FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Linton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Reliever for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began the use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself, and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist.—Adv.

FAIRBANKS RANCH IS IN HEART OF GREAT VALLEY

LIES IN VERY CENTER OF "GOD'S COUNTRY" FOR FARMER.

Eleven Thousand Acres in Greene County are Valued at $1,760,000—Is Operated by Former Vice President Along Most Approved Agricultural Lines.

Many Jacksonville people have visited the ranch owned and operated by former vice president Charles W. Fairbanks, along the Illinois river in Greene county and the following article about this immense agricultural project, taken from a recent issue of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, will no doubt be of interest to not only them, but many others:

Even the Ozark mountains of Missouri have been called "God's country"—"God's country" for the tourist and sight-seer. So has the land lying in the great Illinois bottoms been rightly called "God's country"—"God's country" for the farmer—for in this great valley is found the most productive and fertile soil in the world.

In the very heart of this great valley lies the Fairbanks Valley Ranch, composed of more than eleven thousand acres and valued at $1,760,000. The ranch is owned by former Vice President Chas. W. Fairbanks, and is operated by his brother, Wm. D. Fairbanks, of Decatur, Ill.

By the rank and file of the middle west and east, by those who are accustomed to seeing only the small farms whose area never exceeds two hundred acres, the immensity of the Fairbanks ranch hardly can be comprehended. Not until one has paid the ranch a visit does he realize the immensity of the institution—11,000 acres of the richest land in the world. There is more land in one field than in twenty-five farms of the average number of acres, and the whole ranch lies in Greene county, Illinois.

Ten years ago, when C. W. Fairbanks bought the greater part of the ranch, prairie grass was the only product. In the past ten years the land has been cleared and placed under cultivation, until at present there is not an acre on the entire farm that is not under cultivation, or is used to further the farm improvement and live stock interests.

Brother Supervises Work.

The ranch is under the direct supervision of W. D. Fairbanks, who is connected extensively with other farm and ranch interests in northern Illinois. On the ranch the word of the manager, Ward Baldwin, is law to the three hundred employees. The employees are divided into six divisions—the farm improvement division, the general farm division, the levee construction division, the carpenter gang, the ditching division, the live stock division, and the pumping station division. At the head of each division is a foreman, who receives his orders every morning for the day's work from the general foreman, Ward (A. W.) Baldwin, also stock foreman, who in turn receives orders from the general manager.

Of the entire area of the farm, ten thousand acres are reclaimed land—land that for ages has been subjected to an annual overflow until it has been covered with the decayed matter of pond lillies, etc., to the depth of nearly a foot; land that will produce almost anything. Before Mr. Fairbanks came into possession of it, there were times when the overflow from the Illinois river and Apple creek stood over all but one thousand acres. Under the supervision of Lon McKee, the work of reclaiming the land has been going on for ten years. Levees have been constructed to guard against the annual overflow, and a pumping station, one of the largest in the middle west, with a capacity of $5,000 gallons per minute, has been installed.

As there is not a creek or natural drainage on the entire ranch, it was found necessary to drain the land with tile. Two hundred miles of tiling have been laid in the last two years, and as much more will be laid in the next two or three years.

Last year the levee along Apple creek overflowed, and the capacity of the pump then in operation was found to be insufficient to handle the water. Another pump, twice the size and capacity of the first, with main pipes forty-eight inches in diameter, was installed and the levees fronting on the Illinois river and Apple creek were increased in height until the entire twenty-two miles range from twelve to fifteen feet. The high water has never exceeded the mark of ten feet. An estimation of the cost of the levee was given at $350,000, and it has now entirely finished.

Sub-Irrigation Methods.

During the three months' drought this year the bed of an old lake, which embraces the largest corn field on the ranch, was dammed. By sub-irrigating—that is, by pumping water from the Illinois river on the lake bed until the water stood at a depth of six inches over the land—the corn production of five thousand acres was 350,000 bushels, or seventy bushels to the acre.

About three thousand acres of the land is given over to live stock interests. Three hundred head of mules and horses are owned by the ranch and an additional three hundred are owned by tenants. The hogs owned by the ranch number 1,700. It is the aim of the stock foreman to raise 1,000 pigs a year for the market. To the selection and raising of cattle for the markets the stock foreman devotes the greater part of his time. So anxious are the owners to build up a top-notch herd that Mr. Baldwin has been sent to Kansas City, St. Louis and Chicago to buy the finest grades of cattle, and the owners have been rewarded.

Alfalfa Crops.

Five crops of alfalfa were harvested from the two hundred acres this year. Because of the benefit derived from it by the land and the live stock, the area devoted to it in 1914 will be increased to four hundred acres, and more acreage will be devoted to it each year.

MENDONSA FACES CHARGES.

Realty Man Is Brought to Edwardsville on Arson Indictment.

From the Globe-Democrat: Emanuel Mendonsa of Jacksonville, Ill., said to be a wealthy real estate operator, was returned to Edwardsville Monday afternoon, following his arrest in St. Louis, to face a charge of arson. He was indicted with J. B. Harris, an attorney of Granite City, following a fire December 22, 1912, which destroyed fourteen buildings in Madison, said to have been purchased and insured by Mendonsa. It is said the buildings had been unoccupied about ten years.

Mendonsa when arrested had in his possession pass books on three St. Louis banks, showing total assets of close to $12,000. He also had ninety shares of United States Steel Railway Tie company stock, valued at part value of $100, and a certified check for $600.

He says he owns an interest in 50,000 acres of Texas land, in addition to an unencumbered title to 300 acres at Pleasant Hill, Ill.; 300 at Manchester, Ill.; 80 acres in Mis- souri, and real estate in Venice, III.

He said he knew nothing of the fire which destroyed his Madison property until three weeks after the fire, when he went to Madison to make repairs on the buildings. He says he was living at 622 Market street, St. Louis, at the time of the fire.

Mendonsa's bond was fixed at $4,000. Monday night he asked Sheriff Henry to accompany him to St. Louis, where he says he will take securities from safety deposit vaults which will guarantee the bonds.

Poisoned Blood Quickly Cleansed

In Any Form of Blood
Trouble the Cure is Rapid.

An astonishing record of serious blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. And most if not all these startling calamities could be averted were the blood primed, toned and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S. Few people realize how quickly the system becomes infected with the acids and ferment from uncooked food, constituting an attractive kidney.

The symptoms are fever, thirst, excitability, dry skin followed by rash, and many indications wrongly diagnosed as pneumonia poisoning. This condition is most universal in all climates and is quickly overcome by the action of S. S. S.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as essential to well balanced health as are the properties of the constituents—grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. And if you will bear this fact in mind and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out those impurities that cause Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Pleurisy, boils and other acneic blood, but you will feel anew the thrill of health that can come only from a purified blood stream.

Do not accept the idea that S. S. S. contains no minerals, no crude drugs, nothing but the most beneficial botanical materials. So be sure and get S. S. S. and avoid disappointment. Get a bottle today and write for free advice to The Swift Specific Co., 222 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

DIAMOND STARS ARE OFF ON THEIR SECOND ROUND THE WORLD TOUR

White Sox With Giants and Others Sail From Vancouver—First Port Will Be Yokohama—Other Baseball Foreign Trips Recalled.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 19.—After barnstorming through the middle west, the southwest and west of the United States ever since the close of the baseball season about a month ago, the aggregation of baseball stars composed of players of the Chicago White Sox and New York Giants, supplemented by other crack players and accompanied by a large party embracing several club owners and their guests, umpires and other baseball officials and a number of ladies, reached Vancouver today to sail from this port on one of the palatial steamships of the Canadian Pacific Steamship company on their tour around the world.

Other Foreign Trips Recalled.

Foreign countries have been visited twice before by American major league players. The first trip was made in 1874, by the Boston and the Philadelphia Athletics of the National league, under the direction of A. G. Spalding. The teams visited only Great Britain and made an excellent impression. The second trip to foreign lands took place in the winter of 1888. The party consisted of the Chicago National league club under the presidency of A. G. Spalding and the captaincy of A. C. Anson and a team composed of players selected from the National league and the American association by John M. Ward. This was an around the world tour by way of Australia, and home by the way of Great Britain.

For the last six years John McGraw of the New York Giants, and Charles Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox, had in their mind the plan or arranging tour of the world by their teams and duplicating, on a much larger scale, the world tour arranged by A. G. Spalding 25 years ago. Last January, when Mr. McGraw was in Chicago he met Mr. Comiskey and after they had talked the matter over they decided to carry out their ambitious plan. Richard Bonellian experienced tour pilot, was engaged to travel in advance of the party and to make all the arrangements for their comfort at the various points to be touched by them. Ted Sullivan, a veteran club manager, and pilot, was made the manager of the tour, who was to accompany the party on its entire journey.

Members of the Party.

The members of the party were selected by President Comiskey and Manager McGraw and they soon discovered that the difficulty was not so much in selecting those who should go, but in excluding those who wished to go who, for one reason or another, could not be taken. As finally selected the party includes the following: Charlie A. Comiskey, president of the White Sox, and wife; Manager John J. McGraw of the Giants, and wife; Manager James J. Callahan of the White Sox and wife; "Buck" Weaver of the White Sox; Morris Lain of Kansas City American association; Crawford of the Detroit Tigers; Hal Chase of the White Sox, and wife; "German" Schaefer of the Washington Americans; "Red" Russell of the White Sox, and bride; George Evans, Ray Schalk, J. Fournier, "Red" Faber, G. Leverenz, Jim Scott and Joe Benz, all of the White Sox; Larry Doyle and Jim Thorpe of the Giants, each accompanied by his bride; "Chief" Meyers of the Giants, and wife; Fred Merkle, of the Giants; Lee Magee of the Philadelphia Nationals; Hans Lobert, Philadelphia Nationals; Arthur Fromme, George Wilts and "Bunne" Hearne, all of the Giants; Mike Doohan of the Philadelphia Nationals; Ivy Wing of the St. Louis Nationals; Jeff Tesreau of the Giants, and bride; Umpire Bill Klem of the National League; Umpire Jack Sheridan of the American League; Ted Sullivan, general manager of the tour, a party composed of guests of Mr. Comiskey and including James R. McAleer, president of the Boston Red Sox, and wife; Louis Comiskey, son of President Comiskey, accompanied by his bride; Joe Farrell and wife; Jim Mullin and wife, Mrs. Hugh E. Keough, Tom Lynch, Al Slight and Billy Leahy, and a number of others, mostly friends of the originators of the tour. The fact that there are six brides in the party, five of them the brides of ball players, adds additional interest to the tour.

First Game at Yokohama.

The first part of the party will reach on its tour will be Yokohama, where the teams will play a game on December 3. On the following day they will play at Kobe and on December 6, at Nagasaki. On December 8 they will reach Shanghai and on December 11 and 12 they will play at Hong Kong. From Hong Kong they will take the steamship St. Albans to Manila, where two games are scheduled for December 14 and 15. On their next cruise they will cross the equator for the first time on their way to Australia, where they will arrive on New Year's day. They will play at Brisbane, Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide and Fremantle, whence they sail on January 14, reaching Colombo, Ceylon, January 23. They will reach Suez February 1, and after playing in Cairo and Alexandria they will sail for Europe, reaching Naples February 7. After playing in a number of Italian, French and English cities they expect to sail from Queenstown March 6, aboard the Mauretania bound for New York.

INTER-STATE GAME LAWS.

Whether game killed in Illinois in the open season can be taken to Missouri during the closed season is the subject of a test case begun by Prosecuting Attorney Howard Sidener, who has issued a warrant charging violations of the Missouri game laws against E. Panock, a well-known St. Louis sportsman. Panock was found at Union station by a deputy game commissioner with twelve quail which he had killed in Illinois. The open season for quail in Illinois is November 11 to December 11; in Missouri it is from December 1 to January 1.

Zelaya, Who Executed Americans, Now Seeks Aid Here For Rebels.

The former president of Nicaragua, Jose Zelaya, has come to the United States to seek support for a revolution against the existing government in the republic. The United States immigration officials have been keeping an eye on him, and an attempt has been made to have him deported as an undesirable alien. While president of Nicaragua Zelaya ordered the execution of two Americans when he accused of joining in a revolt against his government by the National party. GOVERNOR TENER MAY ACCEPT PRESIDENCY OF NATIONAL LEAGUE

THIRTEEN CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS MEET IN COLUMBUS NEXT SATURDAY

Announces That There Are Only a Few Minor Details To Be Arranged Before His Acceptance.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 19.—Governor Tener said tonight that only a few minor details were to be arranged before his acceptance of the presidency of the National League of Baseball Clubs. He made this statement on his way to a train for Philadelphia after a four and a half hour conference with a committee representing the clubs of the league and Charles H. Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club stated that he regarded the matter as settled.

It is understood that the governor desired to have some further communication from the club owners not here, but from all accounts all have declared that they desire him and the representatives here said they considered it as good as closed.

The term will be for five years at $35,000 a year, according to reports circulated but about which the governor and the representatives would not make any official statement. Neither would they say what were the minor points referred to by the governor.

Governor Tener declared that in case he accepted the position he would not resign as governor, nor would he give his undivided time to the affairs of the league for the balance of his term as governor.

Will Accept Presidency.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—Governor Tener upon his arrival here tonight from Harrisburg said he had agreed to accept the presidency of the National League of Baseball clubs for a term of four years. He has been assured of the unanimous support of the eight club presidents, four of whom consulted with him today at the state capitol, while the others were informed of the progress of the negotiations by long distance telephone. The election will take place Dec. 9 next. Until his term as governor expires in January, 1915, he will not accept any salary from the National League and will head that organization merely in an honorary capacity, the governor declared.

HOW TO BENEFIT BY CANAL.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—Representatives of the iron, steel and machinery manufacturing interests of Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey are gathered here in large numbers to attend the business conference to be held here tomorrow under the auspices of the Pennsylvania steel and iron manufacturers, with a view of educating iron and steel merchants and manufacturers of machinery as to the commercial possibilities of the Panama canal. The entire industry will be directly concerned in the subjects to be discussed at this conference. Speakers of international fame, familiar with the possibilities of the Panama canal, will address the conference and special efforts will be made to show to the trade representatives attending the conference how the opening of the canal will affect their business and precisely what must be done to make the Delaware river front one of the famous shipping centers of the world.

DONATION DAY.

Thursday, Nov. 20th, will be Donation Day at Old People's Home. Some needed articles are: Canned tomatoes, candies, groceries of all kinds, sheets, towels, granite ware for kitchen use, and anything that can be used in the house.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

New York will have none of Jess Willard. The over-estimated white hope had been signed to meet that other dub hope, Carl Morris, at Madison Square garden December 2; but the poor showing of the ex-cowboy from Kansas against George Roedel, the Boer, Monday night at Milwaukee, has caused the Gotham promoters to sidetrack Willard and substitute the Boer to hook up with Morris. If the go at Milwaukee was a travesty, what in the world will be the one at New York be? At Milwaukee the South African midget was forced to take running jumps and flights through space in order to land upon the sky-piece of Willard. Carl Morris is a larger man than the cowboy, and to reach him with gloves Roedel will necessarily have to employ a swinging derrick. And yet a verdant public will go bugs to pay its money to witness the burlesque.

Charles Ebbets has wished his Brooklyn lemon upon Wilbert Robinson. The latter on Tuesday signed a Trolley Dodger contract to manage the team in 1914. The old Baltimore star heretofore has had an easy time in his baseball work, but when he contracted with Brooklyn he was handed a package of trouble that will cause him many restless days and nights before he unloads it.

"Big Jeff" Overall has again "sang his baseball swan song." This time he says he has quit the game for keeps. He is going to work for a brewery in Los Angeles. At that job he can keep the kinks out of both arms hoisting schooners of the steamed amber.

The Oxford, England, athletic committee have put a damper on Rhodes scholars at the British university. Most of these Rhodes students hail from the United States and they have been walking away with all of the first prizes in the athletic contests at the university. This was something the London Times and other English newspapers could not stand for, hence the meeting of the athletic committee to devise ways and means to curb the pesky Yankees. Resolutions were adopted, first, that residence at any time in any other university or similar institution shall disqualify a student from competing in freshmen sports, and, second, that in the Oxford university athletic club's sports, as distinct from the college sports, no competitor shall be allowed who is over 24 years of age.

The ticket scandal is now holding the boards at Chicago. A committee is investigating a report that students at the Chicago and Northwestern universities are in league with the scalpers. All of the $2 tickets for Saturday's game have been taken and scalpers are demanding $5 for these seats. The police authorities are powerless in the premises, but the college authorities promise there will be expulsions by the wholesale if they find students are parties to the filthy mess.

Mike Donovan, Jr., son of the boxing instructor of Terry Roosevelt, Senator LaFollette and other Washington high brows, is hailed in New York as the coming middleweight champion. He is under the care of Jim Johnston, a careful manager, who is seeking a match for him with Frank Klaus or George Chip.

The newly organized league of colored baseball players will have a prolific field to work in, with Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and Indianapolis in the west and Buffalo, Boston, New York and Philadelphia in the east. The new organization is well fortified with money and as to players, the colored teams in the cities mentioned above are the peers of any in the country. Especially strong are the two teams in Chicago, which in the launching of the national organization will be consolidated and the surplus players apportioned to the weaker clubs.

Puck Weaver has had a stormy time on the barnstorming trip with National Umpire Klem. Now that the tourists are on the high seas, Puck will have a chance to get even by winning all of Klem's extra cash, with a pair of deuces.

STUDENT ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

Assumption, Ill., Nov. 19.—Paul Grindol, aged 18 years, is at the point of death at his home in this city following an attempt at suicide. Though conscious, he either will not or cannot talk, and has given no explanation of his act. Two theories are advanced—one that he was disappointed in a love affair, and the other that he was mentally unbalanced because of overstudy.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 19.—Many noted women's suffrage advocates from Wisconsin and other states are in attendance at the annual convention of the Wisconsin Equal Suffrage Association which opened here today for a session of two days. Among the leading speakers is Mrs. Rex McCreery, who did valuable work during the woman's campaign in Pennsylvania.

The other Bible is a family possession of the Lippincott family. Thomas Lippincott, the saintly minister and staunch friend of Illinois college and one of its faithful workers, was born Feb. 6, 1781. He was the father of J. P. Lippincott of this city. The writing, much of it, was done by him and was a fine specimen of the art and Mr. Lippincott says when his father took great pains with his writing was like copy plate.

Rev. Thos. Lippincott was married four times. His first wife was the mother of one child; his second wife lived but six months; his third wife was the mother of twelve children, among them Gen. Charles Lippincott, for several years state auditor.

TRAVELER TELLS OF HIS VISIT TO COUNTESS TOLSTOI

Tourist Whom S. W. Nichols Meets in St. Petersburg Relates His Experiences at Famous Tolstoi Estate.

Just a kindly word of advice to all who expect to visit St. Petersburg, the capital of Russia. It is possible to avoid it don't by any means bring with you a trunk or anything that cannot easily be carried in your hand; it will be a source of annoyance to you if you do. When we crossed the frontier the official took our trunk from the train, opened it took out a few things, looked wise and then had his men cord it in a fashion peculiar to themselves and seal it with the government seal, to break which would be, not exactly death, but would bring dire consequences.

We went over to the station to get it after staying over in Moscow a few days and discovered that the trunk would again have to be examined, though it was going right out of the country and the official was not in, so we had to go again and again the trunk must be opened, but this time the officer did not examine it at all, but ordered it released and we had only ten cents to pay, whereas I feared the bill would be several dollars, as the trunk had been stored nearly ten days. I thought our troubles were over, so we hired a drosky to take us and the trunk to the station from which we were to leave the city next morning. No one there could talk English or German and we waited, motioning frantically trying to drive through the stupid fellows in the baggage department where we wanted to go, but none could accommodate us, so finally one escorted us to the office of the station master and in broken German he informed us that the trunk could not be checked till next morning nor could we leave it in the station and he was obdurate on that point, so we had to reload it and take it back to the hotel. I think for thorough pigheadedness the Russian baggage people take the lead and that without any trouble.

It is amusing to see how the drowsy drivers pad themselves, especially those who aspire to fine rigs. They seem to have two or three pillows under their clothes and the effect is really comical and they go about as sedately as one can imagine and the bigger the waist the better satisfied they seem to be as they sit in their boxes.

Gay uniforms are much affected by all sorts of officials, while the servants of a nobleman or king wear enough gilt lace, gaily colored trimmings and uniforms to stock a store for uniforms. Even the lone policeman who stands guard in the center of the open square has a lot of yellow and red about his person, like the soldiers.

A Visit to Countess Tolstoi. I met on the train from St. Petersburg to Stockholm a very pleasant gentleman named C. W. Simpson of Windsor, Vermont, and representing a machinery manufacturing company. He had traveled somewhat extensively through Russia and among other places of interest had visited Countess Tolstoi at the Tolstoi estate and I give his experience in his own language:

I had long been an admirer of Count Tolstoi and had much wished to see his estate and the things that pertained to him and his life work. Tula is about six hours by rail from Moscow and the estate is nine miles from that city and must be reached by private conveyance. I had been by the estate in the winter, but did not try to gain admission, but this time it was summer and I determined to make the attempt, though I was not armed with any letters of introduction whatever. With a guide, or interpreter, I made the trip from Tula over rather bad roads and found myself at the far famed estate of the great man. It is well known that he and his wife did not get along very well together and had lived apart the last year of his life.

However, he was possessed of great wealth and left her the ancestral castle or palace and several thousand acres of land, while to his two sons he left $25,000 each. He also left three daughters, two of whom were unmarried, and one who lives in St. Petersburg is occasionally visited by the mother. One daughter not married has an estate between Tula and the home of her mother and was building a new house when I went by. I also understand that the countess was considerable means of her own, so that she is well prepared for the needs of life.

There is quite a village of thatch roof houses in the vicinity of the estate and occupied by tenants of Tolstoi and to them he left considerable property. On the way to the house I noticed long trench some three feet deep and wide, with the dirt on Countess Tolstoi's side was informed that it had been dug at her orders to serve as a dividing line between her estate and the land of her neighbors. I was very sorry to see that the estate is not well kept up but is neglected in many ways. We passed a pretty lake, three stables, one large one, and they were all in poor repair. In front of the palace or residence is an orchard, but that is in a poor condition. I noticed several fine dogs tied near the house and suppose they were pets of the countess. The palace or residence is a wide building about 60 by 100 and two stories, plain and well built but not especially fine. It has a verandah on one end and extending about one-fourth of one side and is a comfortable appearing structure.

When I applied for admission the man in waiting, whom I would think was about 40, told me that the countess had not yet arisen, but I might go and visit the grave of the count and possibly by the time I returned she would be ready to receive me. I did so and found the last resting place of the great man in a small four-poster on a small elevation a fourth of a mile from the house and where the count used to play when a boy. The grave is among tall trees and according to his wish is not marred in any way whatever. There is a small mound or elevation the size of the grave and it is covered with natural daisies and buttercups and I took one of the latter, which I prize very highly. The grass about the grave is cut and that is about all the care that is taken of it except to keep the flowers growing. About a fourth of an acre is inclosed with a board fence and many visitors have carved their names on it. The entire surroundings are plain and simple and in keeping with the life, character and wishes of the great man whose body lies there.

I returned to the palace and was told that the countess would receive me and as I had sent up my name and address it was a help, for I found she had a kind regard for our country. The countess has no one with her except her servants and orders her household according to her own ideas. Her hours for receiving guests are from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m. As I entered she greeted me and from the top of the starway and remarking that I was from America made me welcome and made me feel at ease at once. Her manner was courteous and hospitable, yet quiet and dignified. She is 68 years old, yet doesn't appear to be at all over 60. Her hair is light gray and she is vigorous and strong and shows no effects at all of age. She was arrayed in a morning dress and from her neck depended some fine old lace and her general appearance was pleasant and attractive.

I told her my admiration for her illustrious husband and that it would greatly please me to see as much as I might of all that pertained to him and she kindly assented to my request. First I was taken to the count's reading room and study and as I stood there in the presence of the desk and table at which he worked I thought of the mighty intellect that once frequented the place and I could not help thinking that if the good in his principles could only obtain in that land now it would blossom as the rose and how much happiness would be added to the lot of its millions of inhabitants. How grand were his ideas and how altruistic his wishes, even though not all of his ideas were practical in every day life.

There he worked from day to day and from that study went forth works which elicited the admiration of mankind and caused his sovereign a few uneasy moments lest his subjects should become imbued with too many ideas of liberty. Near the window was the invalid chair in which the great man spent so many of the latter days of his life and which has an especially melancholy interest at present. One of the most interesting objects is a bed which has been handed down through many generations and on which many of the family of the present and past have been born. Tolstoi had almost if not quite a superstition regarding this bed and wished all his family to be born on it and it is notable that of the seven children, born to him, the five born on that bed are living and the two who were not are dead, as I was informed.

Next came the sleeping room, which was a plain, simple apartment, furnished with a few chairs and bed, very old. It had a large window in it and it commanded a fine view of the driveway from the main road to the palace. Then I was ushered into the drawing room, which was rich in family portraits and there on the wall I had the pleasure of greeting the silent representations of many of the family for several generations. There were two good portraits of the count and one of the countess; portraits of his parents and grandparents, the daughters and a family group. One of the most valuable portraits was one of the count's grandfather painted by one of the eminent masters and a fine piece of work.

I was in that house perhaps an hour and during that time the countess treated me with great politeness and seemed especially pleased to entertain me from the great and free country from which I came. It is truly worth something to be a king, as is every true, upright citizen of the United States, and I felt proud of the distinction which I enjoyed on that account. I thanked the distinguished lady for her courtesy to me and was assured that I was wholly welcome and I departed feeling I had been in the presence of a great spirit who had done his part toward moving the world and advancing the cause of human liberty and for many years I shall recall with pleasure my visit at the home of Countess Tolstoi, whom I found a cultivated lady, speaking English, French and German fluently.

I thanked the gentleman for his story and had a pleasant visit on our way across the country.

REV. J. FRED JONES TO RETIRE.

Completes Eighteen Years of Active Work For Weak Churches of Christian Denomination in Illinois.

At a meeting of the executive board of the Illinois Christian Missionary society, Rev. J. Fred Jones of Stanford, who has been field secretary of the organization for the past seventeen years tendered his resignation to take effect the first of January, 1914, when he will have completed eighteen years of actual work. Mr. Jones has accomplished much in his work which has taken him all over the state. He has assisted in erecting new churches and strengthening weak ones. His work has been wherever he was called and it will be hard to find an energetic man to take his place.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

Don't hesitate! A laxative is necessary if tongue is coated, breath bad or stomach sour.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful today often saves a sick child tomorrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts half sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach-ache, diarrhea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mother can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs;" then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!—Adv.

Remedy as Bad as the Disease.

"On the seventh of February I contracted a severe cold followed by a cough and final loss of voice. I tried many remedies none of which did me any good. I then went to my family doctor and he swabbed my throat five or six times with some medicine he had. I think it was beneficial but the remedy was as bad as the disease. At last the thought struck me—why not try Chamberlain's Clugh Remedy. I did so and this morning my voice is fairly good and is gradually growing better," writes H. C. Clay, publisher of The Reporter, Rapid City, Manitoba. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

His Job, When He Had One, Was Anything but a sinecure.

Persia is the only country besides England where a poet laureate has been officially maintained until recently.

Sheh Muzzaffer el Din in 1896 abolished the post of honor, which the court of Teheran for centuries had boasted. But the duties of the laureate of old Iran were far more onerous than those of his British confrere.

Court etiquette demanded that whenever the "king of kings" traveled his entourage had to include a dwarf, a jester, a historiographer and a poet laureate.

The last two were kept busy, for while the historiographer had to record for posterity all the doings and sayings of the shah (padishah), the laureate was called upon to celebrate a large proportion of these in verse. This custom was not so bad after all, and it was rigidly observed and followed up for the shah, knowing that many of his deeds and utterances would be crystallized into an ode, on his imperial wandering feet bound to speak and to behave majestically, a thing that Muzaffer el Din who abolished the laureateship, never did.—Philadelphia Ledger.

It's Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets For You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from a few constipated days, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets open the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two occasionally and have no trouble with your liver, bowels or stomach. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.—Adv.

LIVES BY HER WITS.

Only Its Sense of Humor Saved This Hen From Decapitation.

For some time, writes "Suburbanite" in the Glasgow News, one of my hens has been indulging itself in a practice that but for the little joke involved would have ended in its decapitation.

It is one of a pen of eight egg machines, or seven, rather, for its egg producing mechanism is considerably out of order, its best average being about one in the fortnight. Yet until recently that hen was scheduled on my book as the premier layer. That happened in this way:

Every morning when I made my appearance in the garden Nora (the hen) would be found clucking beside one of the eggs with all the force of its ravenous throat.

If any of its sisters laid claim to the property there would be a wild flutter, and the audacious bird would continue her boasting when she had cleared her bill of feathers.

Some time ago I discovered her in the act of taking up her stand over the production of another hen, and a careful watch thereafter disclosed her true capabilities. A sense of humor is undoubtedly one of them, and this is being regarded as a saving grace, for I have decided to allow her to continue living by her wits.

Q.—Where must the return be filed? A.—An individual must file the return where he resides or has his principal place of business; a corporation or a nonresident must file where the principal place of business is located, and the trustee, guardian, executor, etc., must file the return where he resides or where the instrument under which he acts is recorded.

Q.—What must the return contain? A.—The gross income and certain deductions and allowances which will be explained shortly.

Q.—Must the return be sworn to? A.—Yes. In case of a corporation the oath or affirmation is made by an officer.

Gross Income.

Q.—What does gross income mean under the income tax law? A.—Gross income is defined in the statute as gains, profits and income derived from various sources, wages or compensation for personal services or from professional, business, trade, commerce or sales or dealings in real or personal property growing out of the ownership or use or interest in real or personal property, also interest, rent, dividends, securities, or the transaction of any lawful business, or gains, profits and income from any source whatever.

Q.—Does gross income include property acquired by gift or by will? A.—No, but it includes the income from such property.

Q.—Will proceeds of life insurance policies paid upon death or paid upon the maturity of a term or upon surrender of a policy be included as income? A.—No.

Rates of Taxation.

Q.—What is the rate of taxation? A.—The normal rate is 1 per cent of the net income, and this applies to corporations as well as to individuals. In the case of individuals having a net income exceeding $3,000 the tax provided for the normal tax upon that portion of the income of the person who was entitled to the rent, salary, income, annuity, etc.

Q.—If the annual rent on my home or place of business is $2,500 and I know that the landlord has other income which would make him taxable, shall I deduct 1 per cent from my rent? A.—No; you can only make the deduction provided the rent you pay exceeds $3,000 per year, and this same principle applies to all payments of rent, salary, interest, annuities, etc., with the sole exception of interest on corporate bonds.

Q.—If the interest on corporate bonds amounts to less than $3,000, must the 1 per cent be deducted from the source? A.—Yes; the law provides that the income is interest on corporate bonds; the tax must be deducted at the source, irrespective of the amount of the interest payment.

Q.—If rent or salary payable by me amounts to $3,000 or less I understand I withhold no tax, but if it amounts to more than $3,000, do I withhold the tax on the excess or on the whole amount? A.—You withhold the tax on the whole amount. For example, if rent or salary due from you amounts to $3,000 or less you deduct nothing, but if it amounts to $3,500 you must deduct $3—namely, 1 per cent of the entire $3,500.

Q.—Are corporations ever liable for the additional tax against incomes of individuals? A.—One per cent on amount by which income exceeds $30,000 but does not exceed $50,000; 2 per cent on amount by which income exceeds $50,000 but does not exceed $75,000; 3 per cent on amount by which income exceeds $75,000 but does not exceed $100,000; 4 per cent on amount by which income exceeds $100,000 but does not exceed $250,000; 5 per cent on amount by which income exceeds $250,000 but does not exceed $500,000; 6 per cent on amount by which income exceeds $500,000.

Q.—Are corporations ever liable for the additional tax? A.—Never.

Q.—In calculating net income for the additional tax, are the same deductions made as in calculating net income for the normal tax of 1 per cent? A.—Yes, with the exception that in calculating net income for the additional tax neither dividends nor amount of income on which tax is withheld at the source will be deducted.

Exemptions and Deductions.

Q.—Is there any exemption allowed to a taxable person? A.—Yes, $3,000; and if the person is married and his wife lives with him the exemption is $1,000 more, making $4,000 in all. The same provision is made if the person making the return is a married woman whose husband lives with her.

Q.—Can husband and wife each deduct the additional $1,000? A.—No. Only one deduction of $4,000 shall be made from the aggregate of husband and wife when living together.

Q.—Can guardians, trustees, executors, etc., deduct the exemption of $3,000 for the benefit of the person for whom they act? A.—Yes.

Q.—What deductions can be made by an individual for expenses, etc.? A.—1. Necessary expenses actually paid in carrying on business. 2. All interest paid on debts due as in calculating net income for the normal tax of 1 per cent. 3. National, state, county, school and municipal taxes. 4. All losses actually sustained in trade or arising from fire, storms or shipwreck and not compensated by insurance or otherwise. 5. Debts due and found worthless, and charged off. 6. Reasonable allowance for wear and tear. 7. Dividends received from corporations with respect to income tax. 8. Amount of income on which tax is paid or withheld at the source provided such income does not exceed $3,000 or is irregular in time and amount. 9. Interest on obligations of the United States, a state or a political subdivision of a state. 10. Salaries of the present president of the United States, present judges of the federal courts and the compensation of all officers, employees of a state or a political subdivision of a state, provided the same is not paid by the United States government. 11. The exemption of $3,000 or $4,000 for couples living together. As above explained, these deductions are allowed in calculating net income for the normal tax. For the additional tax items 7 and 8 are not allowed.

Q.—Can personal, living or family expenses be deducted? A.—No.

Q.—Is an assessment for local benefits deemed a tax and deductible as such? A.—No. The statute expressly provides that such assessments shall not be deducted.

Q.—Can any deduction be allowed for cost of new buildings, improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property? A.—No.

Q.—What is meant by the necessary expenses paid in carrying on business? A.—Clerk hire, rent, lighting, heating, stationery, delivery charges, etc.

Q.—Suppose I have allowed state or local taxes to accumulate for several years, can I deduct the payment of accumulated taxes, or can I only deduct the taxes which fell due within the year for which I made an income tax return? A.—You can deduct all the tax payments, whether they were accumulated or not.

Q.—What deductions are allowed to corporations? A.—1. The ordinary and necessary expenses paid in carrying on business.

Q.—What individuals are required to make tax returns? A.—Every person of lawful age subject to the tax having a net income of $3,000 or over for the taxable year. In addition, all guardians, trustees, executors, administrators, agents, receivers and conservators must make a tax return for the persons for whom they act.

Q.—Suppose there are two or more guardians, trustees, executors, etc., must each make a return? A.—No; a return made by any one is sufficient.

Q.—Are there any individuals who need not make a tax return? A.—Persons having net incomes not exceeding $3,000, persons for whom the return is made by an employer or by a guardian, trustee, executor, etc., and who have no other income, and persons whose income is derived solely from dividends on stock in corporations which pay tax and whose net income does not exceed $30,000.

Q.—Does a corporation have to file a return? A.—No; only if required by the commissioner or collector; each partner must make an individual return.

Q.—What corporations must make returns? A.—All corporations subject to the tax.

Q.—When must the return be filed? A.—Individuals and corporations must file the return on or before March 1.

Q.—For what period is the tax levied? A.—For the calendar year, except in 1913, when it is levied from March 1, 1913, only.

Q.—Suppose a corporation has a fiscal year which does not correspond with the calendar year, must it make its return for the calendar or for its fiscal year? A.—The tax is levied and the return must be filed for the calendar year, but the corporation may designate and use the last day of any month as the day for closing its books and preparing its return. This date is then held for the fiscal year, and the return must be filed within sixty days after the close of the fiscal year and the tax year expenses incurred in maintaining and operating the business and properties of the company, including rents, taxes and losses actually sustained and not compensated by insurance or otherwise, including reasonable allowance for depreciation. 3. Interest paid on bonded and other indebtedness to an amount of such indebtedness not exceeding one-half the interest bearing indebtedness and its outstanding capital stock. 4. All taxes, national or state or imposed by a foreign government.

Q.—Is a corporation entitled to an exemption of $3,000 or $4,000 as an individual? A.—No. There are no exemptions in the case of corporations; they are allowed to deduct the expenses, losses, interest and taxes already explained.

Q.—Individuals can deduct dividends, can a corporation deduct dividends received from other corporations? A.—No; while this appears to result in a double taxation, a tax of 1 per cent having been paid upon the dividends by the corporation from which they were received, congress intended to tax dividends received by one corporation from another.

Q.—Does the present income tax law take the place of the corporation income tax law of 1909? A.—Yes, but for the months of January and February, 1913, the old corporation income tax law remains in force. The present income tax goes into effect from March 1, 1913.

Collection at Source.

Q.—What is meant by the collection of this tax "at the source"? A.—The law provides that all persons, firms and corporations paying interest, rent, salaries, annuities or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits and income of any other person exceeding $3,000 per year shall deduct 1 per cent and pay it to the government as the normal tax upon that portion of the income of the person who was entitled to the rent, salary, income, annuity, etc.

Q.—If the annual rent on my home or place of business is $2,500 and I know that the landlord has other income which would make him taxable, shall I deduct 1 per cent from my rent? A.—No; you can only make the deduction provided the rent you pay exceeds $3,000 per year, and this same principle applies to all payments of rent, salary, interest, annuities, etc., with the sole exception of interest on corporate bonds.

Q.—If the interest on corporate bonds amounts to less than $3,000, must the 1 per cent be deducted from the source? A.—Yes; the law provides that the interest on corporate bonds is the source of the tax. The interest on corporate bonds must be deducted at the source, irrespective of the amount of the interest payment.

Q.—If rent or salary payable by me amounts to $3,000 or less I understand I withhold no tax, but if it amounts to more than $3,000, do I withhold the tax on the excess or on the whole amount? A.—You withhold the tax on the whole amount. For example, if rent or salary due from you amounts to $3,000 or less you deduct nothing, but if it amounts to $3,500 you must deduct $3—namely, 1 per cent of the entire $3,500.

Q.—Is the person entitled to rent, salary, interest, annuity, etc., claim an exemption? A.—Yes; by filing a notice with you he can claim and deduct the exemption of $3,000 or $4,000 if married and with a wife living with him; in that case you should only deduct the 1 per cent from the excess over the exemption. For example, if a landlord or employee is entitled to $3,000 a year and files with you an exemption as a married man amounting to $4,000 you would only deduct $10—namely, 1 per cent on the excess of $1,000.

Q.—How about the collection of coupons on corporate bonds? A.—The interest is to be deducted by the corporation. The owner of the coupon must then file a certificate of ownership with the bank or other concern which receives the coupon for collection. Otherwise that bank would have to collect the tax and attach its own certificate, giving the name of the owner. The owner has a right to claim exemption up to $3,000 if single or $4,000 if married. The forms of certificates of ownership and of exemptions have been prescribed and may be obtained from the collector.

Q.—In deducting the tax from rent, salary and interest, shall I deduct from each payment or wait until $3,000 has been paid? A.—Under the regulations you need not withhold the tax until such time as the rent, salary or interest shall have reached an aggregate in excess of $3,000. The tax subsequently is to be deducted from the full amount or from $3,000 or $4,000 less if noted. An exemption has been filed.

Q.—What tax shall be paid in 1913? A.—The interest is to be deducted by the corporation. The owner of the coupon must then file a certificate of ownership with the bank or other concern which receives the coupon for collection. Otherwise that bank would have to collect the tax and attach its own certificate, giving the name of the owner. The owner has a right to claim exemption up to $3,000 if single or $4,000 if married. The forms of certificates of ownership and of exemptions have been prescribed and may be obtained from the collector.

Q.—Is the tax to be paid in 1913?

A.—For the year 1913, the deduction is on a five-sixths basis, because the law will have been in effect for ten months. All calculations of exemptions, deductions, income, etc., for 1913 shall be taken at five-sixths of the whole annual amount in each case.

Q.—Suppose the landlord or employee entitled to receive more than $3,000 a year has business expenses, losses, etc., which bring his net income below $3,000 in all; can he, by filing a statement of such business expenses, losses, etc., obtain a full payment from me without deduction? A.—No. You must still deduct 1 per cent. He will be entitled to obtain the benefit of such deduction by application to the collector.

Q.—What do I do with the amounts I deduct from payments of salary, interest, rent, annuity, etc.? A.—You hold them and make separate returns for such deduction at the same time you make your own return. You pay the amount of the deductions to the collector between June 1 and June 30. Individuals and corporations will be notified of the amount upon which they are liable on or before June 1.

Q.—What is the Publicity of Returns.

Q.—Are the returns made by an individual or corporation open to the inspection of the public? A.—All returns, whether by individuals or corporations, are public records, but they may be inspected only upon the order of the president under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of the treasury and approved by the president.

Q.—Can income tax returns be inspected by the tax offices of any state, city or county? A.—No, except as they may be inspected by any citizen, as explained in my answer to the previous question. The only exception is that officers of any state tax commission may have access to the returns.

Q.—What is the Publicity of Returns.

Q.—What is the penalty for neglect or refusing to make a return on time? A.—Five per cent of the amount of the tax is added and 1 per cent monthly from the time it became due and the fine may be imposed of not less than $30 or more than $1,000 in the case of an individual or not more than $10,000 in the case of a corporation.

Q.—What is the penalty for making a false or forged tax return? A.—A fine not exceeding $1,000, imprisonment for one year, or both. In the case of an individual or of a corporation a fine not exceeding $10,000 in the case of a corporation.

Q.—Is there any penalty if a landlord or employer or other person from whom a tax must be deducted at the source files a false statement respecting the $3,000 exemption or less? A.—A fine of $30.

Q.—Can a man's or company's books and accounts be examined by the collector? A.—The United States courts can compel attendance, production of books and testimony in cases where persons are summoned by the collector.

Q.—What is Hunger the Best Sauce?

Sauce is used to create an appetite. The right way is to look to the digestion. When that is good you are certain to relish your food. Chamberlain's Tablets improve the digestion and create a healthy appetite.

PETER BIRDSELL.

Willing to know more about Peter Birdsell, a Journal reporter sought the old gentleman and gathered additional interesting facts. Mr. Birdsell was born within half a mile of the public square in Carrollton, April 23, 1832, so that he is now 81 years old and spry as many a man half a century younger. He says his birth is memorable from the fact that the same day saw Patrick Cavanaugh hanged for the brutal murder of Jimmy Lofton. Cavanaugh had been nursed through a spell of sickness at the Lofton home and naturally one would suppose he should have felt grateful but it seems he was not. He was walking along the road when he met Jimmy Lofton riding a horse and the child invited the man to get on and ride in front which he did.

The boy told him he was on his way with twenty dollars to pay a debt his father had sent him to cancel and the money so

Once again we will try to chronicle the happenings in Concord and vicinity after laying away another dear one, our mother.

Miss Thessie Webster went to Jacksonville Monday to enter the employ of Montgomery & Deppé.

Miss Flora Filson went to Decatur, Illinois and other places to visit recently.

Miss Bernice Cooper was resting as easily as could be expected Sunday after a second ineffectual attempt to remove a needle from her foot, which had been there 16 years and is embedded in the bone.

Louis Rexroat and family are mourning the loss of their faithful family horse, "Billy," whom they most tenderly cared for after his usefulness was past.

Miss Elizabeth North of Winchester reported her niece, Miss Lucile North, formerly of the I. W. C., as steadily gaining in health.

We are glad to hear Link Bayless is improving from the effects of the paralytic stroke he sustained Wednesday afternoon. All wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yeck visited their brother, Glenn, and family in Jerseyville recently.

Mrs. Sam Frazier of Rock Bridge was in Concord last week assisting in disposing of the household effects of her mother, Mrs. Thomas Finch, who will make her home with Mrs. Frazier.

Mr. George Johnson, nee Katie Yeck, was in Jacksonville recently.

Spencer Smith is to go to Springfield Tuesday as representative to the grand lodge from Lodge 82 I. O. O. F. of Concord, and Robert Diggins and Wm. Cooper will also attend.

MEETING OF TEXAS AD CLUBS.

Beaumont, Texas, Nov. 19.—The third annual convention of the Associated Advertising clubs of Texas opened here today with Gua W. Thomasson, the president of the Texas organization, in the chair. The list of delegates attending the convention includes representatives of the clubs in Abilene, Beaumont, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Texarkana, Waco and Waxahachie. The program of the convention includes many well known speakers who will deliver addresses upon topics of current interest to the advertising and business men. There will also be round table discussions or advertising matters, conducted by various officials and members of the Texas association. There will also be addresses by advertising men from New York, Boston, New Orleans and other large cities in other parts of the country.

EAT CABBAGE, FISH, SAUSAGE, NEW BREAD

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Upset Stomach if You'll Take "Pape's Diapepsin"—Try This!

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour or upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gas, no belching, no eructation of indigestible food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.—Adv.

Letters asking donations for charity also are pouring in, but Mr. Bowman doesn't know about them. If he did they would cause him to worry.

The fact that he is a rich man so late in life and that he can get no particular good out of his wealth has already worried him enough, say his trustees.

A law suit by one of the John Bowman heirs, who is seeking a division of the estate, is another thing the trustees have on their hands. And this payment of the inheritance tax and other claims is proving a source of income for several lawyers who need the money.

THE TROUBLES OF A WEALTHY MAN.

Love Letters Pouring Into Heir of $250,000.

John Milton Bowman, 82 years old, of Stonington, Ill., heir to the John Bowman estate valued at $250,000, is being besieged by love letters, but he doesn't know it.

His trustees have charge of his mail and they are not letting daring members of the fair sex harrass the feeble old man. From five to twenty letters a week come from all over the country, many from young girls who even go so far as to suggest pretty route for a honeymoon trip.

ECHOES FROM ALEXANDER

Alexander Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Alexander resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

John William Aulabaugh, farmer, Alexander, Ill., says: "About two years ago I took several boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and will say that they did me more good than all the doctors I had tried. I have been bothered very little with my back since I used Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above is not an isolated case.

Mr. Aulabaugh is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches

—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Aulabaugh had.

"KID" ALBERTS.

Waterbury, Conn., Nov. 19.—Fight fans of this city and vicinity are looking toward a treat tomorrow night, when Packey McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, and "Kid" Alberts of New York, will engage in a contest before one of the local clubs. The agreement calls for a ten-

CHARGE FARMER KILLED PHEASANT.

John Lucas, Residing Near Mechanicsburg, "Gets in Bad" With State Game Department.

Violation of the state game law by shooting a pheasant is the charge against John Lucas, a farmer residing in Mechanicsburg township, six miles south of Dawson, who was arrested by county authorities. According to the information furnished the authorities, Lucas was seen with a dead pheasant in his possession, and it is charged that he shot it, which is a violation of section No. 10 of the state game law.

SALVATION ARMY CONGRESS.

New York, Nov. 19.—The largest gathering of Salvation Army officers ever assembled in the United States greeted General Bramwell Booth, the head of the Salvation Army of the world, today when he called to order the Salvation Army congress which has been called together for a session of five days for the purpose of considering many important problems growing out of certain changes in the existing conditions of the United States and out of the tremendous growth of the American branch of the army, which is now far greater than any of the other branches.

Commander Eva Booth, who is the head of the Salvation Army in the United States, and nearly all the prominent members of her staff are in attendance and also a number of the army officers and officials from England, who accompanied their chief to this country.

Many questions of great importance to the Salvation Army in the United States are to come up for consideration and it is believed that an effort will be made to introduce new business methods which have become necessary owing to the enormous growth of the organization.

"LULU" HAROURT 50 YEARS OLD

London, Nov. 19.—Lewis Vernon Harcourt, the present colonial secretary, and one of the strongest men among the younger set of British statesmen, received the congratulations of his numerous friends, political and otherwise, today on the occasion of his 50th birthday anniversary. He is a son of the late Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the famous Liberal statesman, and is married to Miss Ethel Burns, a niece of the late J. Pierpont Morgan. Recently his name has been mentioned prominently in connection with the governorship of Canada, but it is believed that Mr. Harcourt will prefer to remain at home, where a brilliant political career seems to be open to him, as he is highly popular and considered a man of unusual attainments and power.

SCIENCE CLUB TO MEET.

The Mathematics and Science club will meet at Illinois Woman's College on Thursday, Nov. 20, at 8 o'clock.

The paper will be given by Miss Van Ness. Subject, "Deep Sea Life."

All the mathematics and science teachers of the town are invited to attend.

The Cheerful Life

It is the right of everyone to live and enjoy the cheerful life. We owe it to ourselves and those who live with us to live the cheerful life. We cannot do so if ill health takes hold of us.

The wife, mother and daughter suffering from hot flashes, nervousness, headache, backache, dragging-down feeling or any other weakness due to disorders or irregularities of the delicate female organs—is not only a burden to herself, but to her loved ones.

There is a remedy. Forty years experience has proven unmistakably that

C. A. SHEPPARD NOT GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF HIGH SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS

Important Gathering to Take Place at Champaign Nov. 20-22—High School to be Dismissed Today and Friday.

I wish to announce to my friends, and the general public, that I am NOT going out of the piano business, as would appear from the article written on the south side of the square and appearing in Journal of 18th.

It has never been my intention to quit the piano business as some of my competitors would try to lead you to believe. Through all my advertising in the last three weeks I never said once that I was going to quit business; in fact, I am going into the piano business on a stronger stand than ever.

What I said was, that I was going to ELIMINATE MY RETAIL STORE in the future, when my lease is out, which will be the first of January, and I will do just as I said I would. Then I will have a place for marketing pianos in this part of Illinois that will be interesting to both the piano buying public and (I have an idea) will also be very interesting to the "Napoleon of Finance." I will announce my future plan for selling pianos about Dec. 15 through the columns of the Jacksonville papers.

No I am not going to quit the piano business here, and I am afraid that the "Big Chief" the "Music King," "The Great I am," with flaming letters will find to his chagrin, that he and his corps of "hellrangers" will sweat more blood in the future than they have in the last three weeks. I can assure you that Chas. A. Sheppard and the Baldwin line of pianos and players will remain with you a while longer.

FUNERAL OF MRS. REED.

Will be at 11 This Morning at Congregational Church.

A dispatch was received last evening stating that a wreck had delayed the train on which the remains of the late Mrs. Albert Reed were to arrive and they will probably not be here till 10:25 this morning at the Chicago & Alton and in that case they will be taken at once to the Congregational church and the funeral services will be conducted at 11. Interment in Diamond Grove cemetery.

All persons who consented to act as ushers please be at the Alton station promptly at 10:25 this morning.

TEACHERS' MEETING SATURDAY.

A meeting of the Morgan County Teachers' association will be held at the high school building Saturday, Nov. 29, at 1 o'clock, when the following program will be given:

Music—High School orchestra.

The Teacher as a Factor in Education—S. H. McCausland.

Paper—Prof. Huber, Jacksonville High school.

Vocal solo—Miss Armeada Brown.

Drawing in the Ungraded Schools—Miss Beulah Cumming.

MEETING POSTPONED.

The meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of Centenary church which was to have taken place Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Glossup has been postponed one week on account of the Missionary Union meeting Friday at the First Baptist church. All members of the society are urged to attend the sessions of the Missionary union.

90TH BIRTHDAY.

The venerable John N. Marsh will today celebrate his 90th birthday at the home of his dutiful son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Tomlinson. Though so far advanced in years Mr. Marsh still enjoys reason and good health and will be with his family for some time to come, in all probability.

MORTUARY

Taylor.

Mrs. Lelia S. Taylor of Chapin, aged 52 years, died Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock at Passavant hospital where she underwent an operation Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Taylor was a daughter of William and Mary Muldrow and was born in Mexico, Mo., June 23, 1861. She was married in Chapin April, 1881, to Fred B. Taylor, who preceded her in death in 1902. She is survived by the following children: Mrs. C. A. Stewart of Berkley, Cal., Ahner C. Taylor of Roseville, Cal., Mrs. I. Lamar Hallowell of Chicago, Neta F., Marshall J., Allen Muldrow and Josephine Clark, who reside at home. One son, William, died in infancy. Mrs. Taylor was a member of the Christian church in Chapin and was a woman admired by a wide circle of friends.

The remains were taken to the Reynolds undertaking establishment and were taken to the home in Chapin in Wednesday afternoon at 1:20 o'clock via the Wabash. Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until word is received from relatives in California.

Cully.

Mrs. M. E. Cully of South Diamond street received a telegram Wednesday announcing the death of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Cully who died Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock at Airdrie, Alberta, Canada, following an operation.

Mrs. Cully who was formerly Miss Anna Richardson, was a daughter of the late William Richardson, and for a number of years resided northwest of the city. She was married about fourteen years ago to John Cully and four years ago the family moved to Canada. She is survived by her husband and four children: James, Arthur, Ellen and Wilbur. The deceased was 31 years of age and received her education in Jacksonville, and at one time was a student at the Illinois Woman's college.

The remains will be brought to Jacksonville for interment and are expected to arrive in the city Saturday.

JACKSONVILLE LODGE NO. 570

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY OF DELIVERY OF LINCOLN'S ADDRESS

Celebration at Springfield is held under auspices of the Illinois State Historical Society.

SPRINGFIELD, III., NOV. 19.—There was a large attendance tonight at the celebration held under the auspices of the Illinois State Historical Society commemorative of the fiftieth anniversary of the delivery of Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Special significance attached to the celebration as this is the home and burial place of Lincoln. Governor Dunne who presided said there were four presidents "whose figures in history are titanic: Washington, the ideal patriot, Jefferson the ideal statesman, Jackson the ideal fighter and Lincoln the ideal humanitarian."

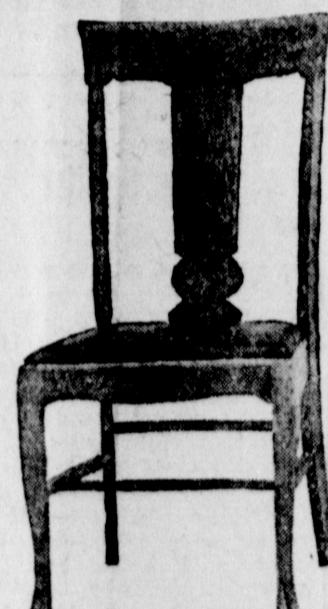

Other speakers were Judge J. O. Cunningham, Urbana, personal friend of Lincoln; Francis G. Blair, state superintendent of public instruction; Everett Jennings, Chicago.

CITIZENS CONTRIBUTE.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—The Citizens' Association today notified Chairman Butts of the legislative committee investigating the million dollar voting machine contract between Cook county and the Empire Voting Machine company of New York that $2,500,000 will be contributed by the association to help carry on the work of the committee. The committee has about exhausted the $10,000 appropriated for it by the legislature.
